

Manatū Wāhine Ministry for Women Social Media Community Guidelines

Manatū Wāhine Ministry for Women is the Government's principal advisor on improving the lives of wāhine women and kōtiro girls. We engage with our community through our profiles on Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter and Instagram.

We encourage contributions to our pages but reserve the right to remove posts that violate our community guidelines. Please keep all comments and posts relevant and respectful.

Manatū Wāhine Ministry for Women reserves the right to:

- determine what constitutes inappropriate content
- edit or entirely remove inappropriate content
- ban users from its social media communities.

We may delete posts which contain:

- racist, sexist or other forms of hate-speech
- potentially defamatory statements
- confidential information
- misinformation
- spam or advertising
- offensive language, abuse or threats
- off-topic or irrelevant information to the thread of conversation
- nudity, pornography or child abuse
- excessive violence
- content that is illegal, gives instructions for illegal activity or advocates illegal activities.

If you find content on one of our official pages which you feel breaches these guidelines, please let us know.

We may use comments and messages submitted to our social media pages for reporting purposes in anonymous form.
